Hanson Yavapai Plant Workers Honored for Lost-Time Record

The 29 employees of Hanson Building Materials America's Yavapai sand and gravel operation have been honored for 26 years of continuous operation without a lost-time accident. Employees were recognized at a luncheon ceremony June 24 at the Prescott, Arizona facility. Gary Stoneburner, Hanson Area West environment, safety and health manager, coordinated the event and served as master of ceremonies. Remarks were made by Jim Kitzmiller, president, Aggregates Division; Jon Reedy, corporate EHS director; John Pemberton, area manager; Glenn Davis, regional safety and health manager; Bob Gilbert, vice president, Arizona Operations; and Jim Sharpe, NSSGA vice president for safety and health services.
