

ARPA Woman of the Year Award 2022

This prestigious ARPA award typically is granted to an elected official that has gone way above the call of duty regarding matters of importance to the industry and indeed this year our recipient is a legislative champion on a multitude of fronts and who supported important legislation this year on behalf of the State, played an important role on key issues or state budget matters, and have served with distinction.

This year's ARPA Woman of the Year Award once again goes to Senator Sine Kerr who is a tremendous example, thoughtful leader and diplomatic policy-maker who is excellent to work with. She is truly a champion for the State of Arizona, rural communities and natural resources and one of ARPA's best advocates at the Capitol.
